

WELCOME TO LAKESHORE WRITER'S GROUP

Monday, May 20th, 2024 @ 7:00pm

MEETING OUTLINE

Two words keep coming to my mind: Thank you. I'll say them again, thank you. As you know, we are at the end of term, sessions, assembly, period, year, season, time... honestly, you guys, I never know what the correct way to refer to us is. HOWEVER!! One thing I DO know is that I cannot thank all of you enough for bringing your gifts, talent, and inspiration to the group. You each have a way of making us feel what you feel through your writing. That is a skill that will take you far in your writing endeavors. The reader always wants to be moved in some way. Each of you possesses the gift to make that happen. Keep on keepin' on...

◆ Warm-up Exercise and Read Back:

I just realized something that we could do for this segment. Next 'year' I should assign this to a different person each month. (Be thinking, Abigail, it might very well be you first!) You just need to come up with a prompt! Hmm...

◆ Just for Fun Homework:

I wish I could take credit for this insightful Homework prompt... Write approximately 130 words using this thought: "If you look back far enough, you can see..."

◆ Topic Thought:

So many topics relevant to writing, do you think I can come up with one that is relevant to everyone?! Eeks! If you have something you MUST discuss with the group, by all means – share! Until then, I'll keep thinking...

◆ Trivia: (?)

"A professional writer is an amateur who didn't quit."
